This is an absolutely gorgeous book! I collect design books and some are good and others are great...this is one not to miss. The book features many of the best designers (and styles) today from Charlotte Moss to Thomas Pheasant to Darryl Carter. Beautiful photos all showing various rooms with Stark rugs/carpets. Some specialty custom and some familiar patterns too. I enjoyed the way the book was split chapters by room (Dining Rooms Etc) and ends with the White House and the specialty carpet that was woven for the Oval Office. It's been awhile since I was knocked out by a design book since so many design photos are published on the internet...I was pleasantly surprised that many of these photos were totally new to me. I hadn't seen them online or in the various design magazines that I subscribe to. If you are a design junkie and love beautiful rooms- this one is for you. What a book!!!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I really appreciate the thought that went into creating this bookBy Bookmaven While I have yet to read the corresponding captions for many of the stunning photographs in this book, it's a beautifully inspiring book. I love how the author is able to share his point through the photographed rooms. The full and double-page illustrations are fresh and clean. The pages are thick and crisp to the touch --almost like the sound of flipping through silk dye swatches like those in carpet factories on Turkish estates.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. just an ad for the carpet makersBy DCseemed like an ad for very expensive carpets. Many of the decorating ideas were too far out for me.

More than any other element of a room, and as the largest and most expensive component of any design scheme, the effect a carpet has on a space is every bit as great as its size. Decorators have long recognized the importance of a fine carpet, its impact on the colors and textures of a space, its contribution to creating an atmosphere, its feel of luxury, and, with the best examples, its lasting worth. Decorating with Carpets taps the extensive and remarkable archive of Stark Carpet for interior designs greatest examples. Over 75 years, Stark, the premier American carpet manufacturer, has worked with notable designers, from Billy Baldwin and Dorothy Draper to Sister Parish and Albert Hadley to Mark Hampton and Mario Buatta to contemporary leading lights such as Diamond Baratta, Victoria Hagan, Katie Ridder, and Stephen Gambrel. Illustrating their work, this definitive book on carpet, like its subject, captures great beauty and will have timeless value.
