Grace Bonney : Design*Sponge at Home before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Design*Sponge at Home:

Gorgeous Visual Feast and Design InspirationBy PersianemuWhile the old adage goes, "don't judge a book by its cover", Design Sponge at Home is gorgeous both inside and out! Admittedly, I'm not much of a do it yourselfer, so I was a bit apprehensive that much of the book would be lost on me, but I'm so enamored by the photography and the design tips that I think this book is an absolute steal. Regardless of style, this book has something for every design enthusiast. While most of the spaces profiled in the book are on the small side, the styles are beautiful and varied. There's all sorts of styles profiled in the book; everything from tastefully done updated traditional to quirky modern and more niche decor like a Scandinavian themed canadian cabin. The writing is clear and concise and each room shot has accompanying blurbs with tips, tricks, and notes on where to find similar or identical pieces featured in the room shots.I sincerely hope that the author and editor continue to issue updates to this beautiful hardcover book.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. It's pretty and has lots of pictures - great book for a coffee table. But more importantly, it's also very useful. There are a lot of examples of different interiors and styles and a large section with DIY tutorials which I'm very excited about. I think it's a great staple book for anyone who wants to make their homes comfortable, cozy and unique.

.com A Project from Design*Sponge at Home Bleach Pattern Tea Towels Adapted from DESIGN SPONGE AT HOME by Grace Bonney (Artisan Books). Copyright 2011. Designers: Derek Fagerstrom and Lauren Smith Cost: $20 Time: 1 hour (plus drying time) Difficulty: 1 star (out of 5) Resist-dyeing, like batik or tie-dye, is a lot of fun, but can be a messespecially for those of us completing projects at home. Design*Sponge editors Derek and Lauren discovered that bleaching a pattern onto pre-dyed fabric using a gel bleach pen is a much easier, cleaner way to achieve a similar effect on a limited budget. So the next time you pick up a bleach pen to work on your bathroom tiles, consider trying your hand at faux batik dyeing using inexpensive, colorful fabric. Materials: 4 tea towels or cloth napkins Plastic drop cloth or aluminum foil Clorox Bleach Pen (2 pens should be enough for 4 towels) Rubber gloves Instructions: 1. Protect your work surface with a plastic drop cloth or sheets of aluminum foil. Wear work clothes in case the pen brushes against you, and open your windows for ventilation. Lay the towels down on the work surface and draw patterns on the fabric with the bleach pen. We like the look of free-hand, slightly wavy lines, but you can also draw your desired pattern onto the fabric beforehand using tailors chalk and trace over it with the bleach pen. Let the finished towels sit for 30 minutes. 2. Wearing rubber gloves to protect your hands from the bleach, rinse the towels in cold water. It is very important to rinse off all the bleach in order to avoid smearing. 3. Let the towels dry, and give them a final wash before use.
