1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Very beautiful calendar By Kindle Customer I love this calendar. This is the 4th year that I have bought this series. The pictures are beautiful and make me want to go to these gardens to see the real thing. The only thing I wish they would add is more details in the description to the photo as to when the garden was first created etc. Other than that I will continue to buy this calendar for next year. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Four Stars By Carroll LaGraffe bought this for my 26 year old niece who is studying Japanese at SFSU. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Kindle Customer My favorite calendar buy a new each year.

The Gardens of the Spirit wall calendar features twelve exquisite Japanese gardens by garden photographer John Lander. Paired with contemplative text by Maggie Oster, this collection of meditative images brings the calming experience of Japanese gardening to all who long to create a simple, peaceful oasis in the midst of a challenging chaotic world. A year of serene Japanese gardens on your wall. Frameable artbook-quality printing. The perfect gift or altar accessory for the Zen garden enthusiast. Showcases John Lander's exceptional photographs of authentic Japanese landscaping and moss-covered gardens. Features inspirational, interpretive garden text by accomplished horticulture author Maggie Oster. Printed on FSC Certified Mixed Source Paper with soy-based inks. Published by Amber Lotus, an independent carbon-negative US company that has planted more than half a million trees since 2008. This calendar features US and Canadian legal holidays, phases of the moon, and important observances of the world's major religions. Strongly influenced by Shinto and Zen Buddhism, this Asian style of landscaping is particularly conducive to restoring an inner calm. Requiring an artful blend of imagination, skill, and patience, the Japanese garden is an extension of the self. By adapting the harmonies of natural garden design to our own landscape, we heighten our understanding of the world around us and the one within us.

About the Author With a love of nature and broad-ranging metaphysical beliefs, Maggie Oster has spent a lifetime studying and interpreting gardens and gardening. She has a Bachelor of Science degree from Purdue University and a Master of Science degree from Cornell University, both in horticulture. Her writing and photography have encompassed a wide range of topics, culminating in eighteen books, including Reflections of the Spirit: Japanese Gardens in America. She has contributed to books, written newspaper and magazine articles, appeared on television, and served as a regional editor for the website of the National Gardening Association. Many of her books and articles feature her own photography. Oster maintains her family's farm, including extensive food and ornamental gardens, in Indiana. She also operates a bed-and-breakfast in a cottage on the farm.
